R. L. PUGH, 33°

Our enthusiasm for the forthcoming Reunion continues to increase and we are most heartened by the reports that have been coming in to us from the outlying areas of our jurisdiction. These reports indicate full well that the forthcoming "Heritage Reunion" will exceed all expectations in every respect.

In the September issue of the BAGPIPE we were happy to report the organization of a new Scottish Rite Club in Swansboro and we told you something of the enthusiasm which abounds in that section. These Brethren are to be commended on the manner in which they have approached their responsibilities and we predict the utmost success for them in their activities.

We are now happy to report that another Scottish Rite Club will be instituted on Wednesday evening, October 3rd, in the President's Room of Chowan College at Murfreesboro. This will be a dinner meeting to which the members, their wives, prospects and their wives, are cordially invited. This new Club will serve both Hertford and North Hampton counties and we can easily predict for them the utmost success. Their success is assured because of the tremendous interest that has been manifested in these two counties in behalf of the Scottish Rite. Our Brethren have been turning in candidates both to the Enfield and the New Bern Reunions in large numbers and the organization of this new club will serve as a fitting climax to the tremendous interest manifested in that section.

Brother Bob James of Murfreesboro has taken the leading part in planning the details of the meeting. He has appointed a nominating committee which will report at the organizational dinner. He has instructed them to report not only on officers of the club, but also on other details, such as By-Laws, time of meeting, etc. Installation of officers will take place at that time also and we look forward to a great meeting.

Some ladies' night parties have been scheduled in several areas of our jurisdiction. Unfortunately, because of increased cost we probably will be unable to have as many parties as we would like to have, but certainly in those areas that have been producing candidates in good number it is felt that their efforts should be recognized.

There is much to be done for the "Heritage Reunion" and the enthusiasm that prevails now indicates that the Brethren are ready to do everything in their power to make this Reunion the best. If each member would only assume the responsibility of selecting some one Master Mason in whom he might have an interest and for whose moral and spiritual benefit he will make a special effort to provide the opportunity, surely we would have no difficulty in having the largest class ever.

Many, many prospective candidates are waiting only to be asked.

Sincerely,

R. L. Pugh

Secretary

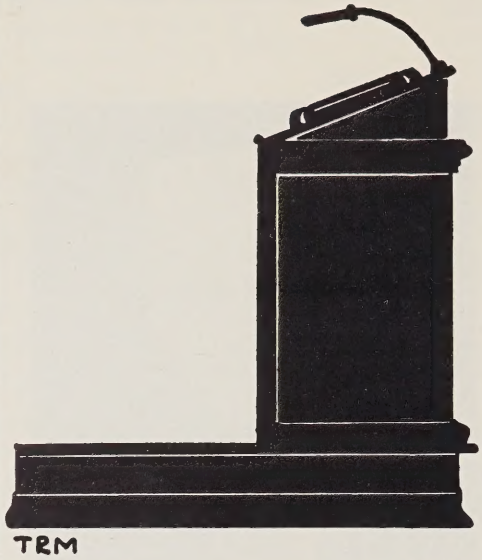
SCOTTISH RITE IS ON THE MOVE!!



From The Classroom

BY EDWARD P. BLAIR, 33° CLASS LECTURER

"TUNNEL VISION"

Sometime ago I was reading an interesting article entitled "How Wide Is Your Eye Span?" It pointed out the fact that good vision depends on how much we can see from the corners of the eye when we are not looking directly at a thing. Some people with short eye span have what is called "tunnel vision." They can see as if through a tunnel straight ahead, but very little, if anything, on the sides. "Tunnel vision" is poor equipment for driving a car because the person can see straight ahead but is unable to see the traffic on the side streets which is about to turn into the road.

I ask you now, how wide is your eye span? Can you really see things and people that are off to one side of your own straight-ahead, selfish concerns? Take people, for instance. Does a case of human need have to happen right square in front of you before you can see it? What about the things on your sides? Are you aware of them?

The Fall Reunion is coming up this November. Look about you on the sides to your right and to your left and see your neighbors. We have far too much in the Scottish Rite for our friends to miss out on due to our own "tunnel vision." How many men have been raised in your respective lodges that are now eligible for the mysteries of the Scottish Rite? How many have already been eligible and are waiting only for a word of encouragement from you?

The mysteries of our beloved order are not an end in themselves. Their purpose is not served in the dramatic, letter-perfect presentation of degrees, but rather in an awakening of select men to the ardent pursuit of truth. No man can find truth except he find God also. This our movement knows, and will admit none to its teachings who have not a real faith in one true, living God. Many of us are but standard bearers with "tunnel vision." We see nothing beyond the beauty and solemnity of our degrees. We go out exalted but without a genuine concern and desire to comprehend, what we have seen and heard.

Let us all be genuine seekers after the truth and the supreme good. Let us not be guilty of having "tunnel vision" on our own accord, but let us look round about us to our left and to our right and then proceed straight ahead recognizing the concerns and needs of others. Such are the teachings of Scottish Rite Masonry.

SOMETHING ELSE

Reynold Davenport, 33°

Every now and then you hear folks get into a real hassle about how to correctly pronouce a certain word. With the English language being what it is, it's a wonder we don't have more hassles than we do.

When I was in the fifth grade — and you can really believe that was awhile ago — we had a reading period each day during which we had to take turns reading aloud. Seated next to me was a boy named Ervin who was no great shakes at reading and he just never seemed to work up any great enthusiasm for the reading period. On this particlular day Ervin was one of those called upon to read aloud and you might say his disposition suffered accordingly.

Anyhow, he stood up and commenced. "Our hero was very tired following his adventure," read Ervin, "so he boarded his father's yachet and sailed away for a week of rest."

"Wait a minute, Ervin," interrupted the teacher, "that is pronounced yot, not yachet."

Ervin looked down at his book, then back at the teacher. "It looks like yachet to me," he said.

"Ervin, I told you it is yot, not yachet," the teacher rather testily replied. "Read on."

Ervin, though, was not one to surrender easily. "Teacher," he protested, "this word here in my book sure don't spell yot. Maybe your book ain't like mine."

Well, the teacher sort of blew her stack then (you know, teachers just didn't put up with as much then as they have to now), and she convinced Ervin right sudden-like that her pronounciation was correct.

I always kind of sympathized with Ervin in the matter because it has always seemed to me that our English language often goes to more pains to confuse than to clarify. The spelling of a whole lot of words frequently seems unrelated to their pronunciation.

And we have words like bear, which can either be a noun or a verb, and bare, which can be an adjective or a verb, and the pronunciation is the same for all uses of the two differently spelled words. So you could properly say: "I'll bare my back to bear a bare bear." You might say that such a sentence would be barely bearable.

Another thing that tends to confuse: we have British English and American English. This gives us trams and trolleys, prams and baby carriages, tubes and subways, and so on. When you add to this stew all the words we have adopted from the Indians you may figure we should call our language American, instead of English.

For over three centuries there have been those who insist we could solve many of the world's ills if we would only adopt a simplified universal language. It makes a lot of sense. It would be a unique switch to see men talking to each other instead of fighting each other.

DEGREE CHANGES

Adhering to the many requests made in the past by members of the class, the Board of Directors has agreed to a change in the schedule of degrees and other activities on the final day (Thursday) of the Reunion. In the past, many candidates have always expressed their desire to leave as early as possible in the afternoon in order that they might be at home by early evening. Consequently, the following changes have been made and a letter will be forwarded to each member of the degree teams scheduled for degree presentation on that day, informing them of the change. The changes are as follows:

9:00 A.M.—30°—Knight Kadosh
11:45 A.M. —Luncheon
1:00 P.M.—31°—Inspector Inquisitor
3:00 P.M.—32°—Master of Royal Secret

Thus the candidates will be able to leave returning home by approximately 4:00 P.M. This arrangement, no doubt, will meet with favor with our candidates. Consequently, all Reunion activities will cease immediately after the close of the Consistory following the 32°, and there will be no evening meal.

ALMONER'S FUND

One of the most important officers in the Scottish Rite Bodies is the Almoner. Many of our Brethren are not familiar with the Almoner's functions, but there are some others who have benefitted greatly from the helpful services that are rendered through the office of our Almoner.

Every once in a while we are called upon for assistance to some of our Brethren who are in distress, and in some instances the condition is one of great urgency. To these appeals for help we always try to respond and in a few cases the responsibility has reached a rather large financial figure. That, of course, is the way we want to be able to function, if our brother is in desperate need of help, his case needs to be examined very closely and if at all possible, we want to be able to respond to whatever extent the need may require. There are times when this has run into several hundreds of dollars, but we have satisfaction in realizing that the type of response exactly suited the need and when the Scottish Rite can make this responsibility in such a way as that, the Almoner's Fund has served the purpose for which it was created.

In addition to cases for individual need, however, Scottish Rite Bodies throughout North Carolina have elected to support the program for the treatment of persons afflicted with aphasia and dyslexia. The training program for this is now in its initial stages and we are looking forward to being able to render assistance to these persons all over North Carolina. It is a beautiful program indeed and Scottish Rite Masons throughout the State are happy to unite with our Inspector General in pursuing such a program as this. We have elected to support this program as much as possible with assistance from the Almoner's Fund.

The Secretary's office is now preparing to mail bills for 1974 to each member and included in this mailing is an envelope, somewhat larger than the one heretofore used, on which we have explained the new uses of the Almoner's Fund and we have requested that our members give considerable thought to the need of contributing as liberally as possible to the fund by means of this envelope.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENTS

We have recently written those of our members who are now already two years behind in their payment of dues and who, unless they pay all or a good part of the total, will be suspended as of January 1, 1974. A return envelope, requiring no postage was included in each letter. Please give this your immediate attention. We do not want to submit your name for suspension and it can be avoided if you will let us hear from you at once.

SCOTTISH RITE IS ON THE MOVE!!

"With Mouth To Ear"

BY CLYDE McCARVER, 32°, K.C.C.H.

SUPPORTS FOR FREEDOM

One of the false assumptions is that freedom is simply a matter of constitutional amendments and bills. Nothing could be farther from the truth! Laws can be easily forgotten and their spirit can easily be lost in the actions of men. Freedom can not be a matter of simply establishing certain rights in one particular relationship! Freedom is actually an atmosphere. It must penetrate all institutions and all relationships of a nation, as well as the individual. Let us consider three supports of freedom in this, or any, nation.

The basic institution in society is the family. There is no single place where a man is so completely influenced for good or ill as in the homes of our nation. Rightly have we insisted that the state cannot invade the home to indoctrinate the children. I am equally convinced that it is just as false to give an ecclestiastical institution that right. I heartily believe in the separation of church and state. There can be no true democracy until people learn to live within the family circle and understand something of the relationship between social responsibility and individual freedom. There are many in our nation who wish to declare their individual freedom who are not prepared to asume responsibility for the world in which they live. I believe that those brave and valiant men who were our forefathers set forth this nation in the hope of freedom and must have realized this very important fact.

Rev. Clyde G. McCarver, 32°, K.C.C.H.

Another significant institution is the educational institution wherein the most American young people obtain their education. We have seen what can happen when a nation invades the classrooms, and indoctrinates teachers and students! The beginning of the end of any nation is the surrender of the educational processes and institutions to the state. What our nation will yet become will largely be determined to a large extent in the classrooms of our schools and universities. Our freedom dictates that truth shall be taught, patriotism inculcated, and lives liberated from any form of tyrant or authoritarianism! Our generation needs to be taught how to think — not necesarily what to think.

All of this is not as easy as it sounds! We find it hard to locate the "enemy" for we are deceived by false movements, false appearances, and false promises. We fight effects and not causes — making a great deal about some hollow victory that never changed anything. We want to change laws instead of changing men; we want the end to justify the means. Too often we have been guilty of fighting sham battles and knocking down straw men! It is so much easier to withdraw from a personal responsibility than it is to engage the enemy. The enemy is oft-times within.

It is much easier to withdraw to safety than it is to engage in battle for the right. Have we forgotten in whom we have put our trust? Have we become tired of hearing about faith? We are called to engage all forms of tyrant, oppression, need, misguided leaders, the vile and vicious. If we have made, or shall make, any progress as a nation it is because men such as we were not content with mere palliatives!

Yes, the "state" can be one of the great supports of freedom. It has a tremendous responsibility for the other institutions in the maintenance of their status and freedom. In America we have been saved from a doctrinaire orthodoxy, having preferred to trust in the experimentation of true and free men. May it ever be so! We ought not to leave the discussion without reminding ourselves that righteousness is fundamental to our freedom. It is not easy for politics to come to terms with the moral law at all times. But, as we think of what has made this nation great, our hearts are lifted by the knowledge that there have always been men who placed principle above personal or political advantage. God grant us more like them! At the end of the day, this is the best assurance that we shall stay free. It is for this that men have fought and died. It is for this that we today are challenged to live!

SCOTTISH RITE IS ON THE MOVE!!

IMPERIAL POTENTATE JACOB A. WINGERTER, 33°

The Scottish Rite Temple in New Bern was honored during the month of September when the Imperial Potentate of the Shrine of North America, Imperial Sir Jacob A. Wingerter, visited us on the occasion of his formal visitation to Sudan Temple. Brother Wingerter is a 33° Mason, having been coronetted with this high honor by the Northern Jurisdiction at Boston, Mass.

He arrived in New Bern by plane on Wednesday evening, September 12th and shortly after his arrival he was tendered a banquet at the New Bern Country Club, attended by the various officials of the Temple and their wives. On Thursday morning, September 13th, this Imperial Brother visited our Scottish Rite Temple, accompanied by the Potentate of Sudan Temple, Ill. Brother Robert N. Bass, Jr., 33°, P.G.M., and our own Brother Nelson B. Banks, 33°, Recorder of Sudan Temple and two or three other Brethren. Assisting in receiving and escorting him through our Temple were Alfred A. (Shorty) Kafer, Jr., 33°, P.G.M., and Brother Johnny R. West, Stage Director of Sudan Temple and Senior Warden of Doric Lodge. We were pleased to show him through the various apartments of our Temple. He was especially delighted with the creation of the Meditation Center located in the Lecture Room and he made us feel very good when he expressed his extreme pleasure with this feature several times. Scottish Rite Masons have a right to feel proud of their Temple and we are more than delighted that now, when we have carried them on a tour of the renovated areas throughout the Temple, that we can conclude with the visitation to the Meditation Center. This new addition to the Temple's attractions seems to add purpose and meaning to the entire structure.

Imperial Potentate Jacob A. Wingerter, 33°

The Imperial Potentate was then escorted to Raleigh where that evening another banquet was held for him in the Royal Villa Motel. He departed by plane the next morning for an official visitation in Tennessee.

You will be interested in some of the noteworthy features of our Imperial Potentate's fascinating career:

SCOTTISH RITE IS ON THE MOVE!!

SCOTTISH RITE CLUBS

Albert Pike Scottish Rite Club

The "Albert Pike Scottish Rite Club" held its first meeting after a long summer vacation, our attendance was disappointing, but many are still on vacation, and we look forward to new enthusiasm, when the autumn weather begins to cool things a bit. We met at "Tetterton's Restaurant" where we enjoyed a good dinner, and a round table discussion of the many plans we have for the future. Our next meeting will be determined between now and Oct. when everyone will be notified.

What are our plans for our next reunion? What a tremendous challenge for each of us. What a challenge to our club as we look ahead to our coming reunion. This challenge will determine what "Scottish Rite Masonry" means to us. May we put forth every effort to obtain results that are meaningful, to our club and our Fraternity.

Masonry, by its teachings, endeavors to restrain men from the commission of injustice and acts of wrong and outrage. Especially it condemns those wrongs of which the doer induces another to partake. He may repent; he may, after agonizing struggles, regain the path of virtue; his spirit may reachieve its purity through much anguish, after many strifes; but the weaker fellow-creature whom he led astray, whom he made a sharer in his guilt, but whom he cannot make a sharer in his repentance and amendment, whose downward course (the first step of which he taught) he cannot check, but is compelled to witness — what forgiveness of sins can avail him there? There is his perpetual, his inevitable punishment, which no repentence can alleviate, and no mercy can remit.

Let us be just, also, in judging of other men's motives. We know but little of the real merits or demerits of any fellow-creature. We can rarely say with certainty that this man is more guilty than that, or even that this man is very good or very wicked. Often the basest men leave behind them excellent reputations. Often there is scarcely one of us who has not, at some time in his life, been on the edge of the commision of a crime.

We may be able to say "This man has lied, has pilfered, has forged, has embezzled moneys intrusted to him; and that man has gone through life with clean hands." But we cannot say that the former has not struggled long, though unsuccessfully, against temptations under which the second would have succumbed without an effort. We can say which has the cleanest hands before man, but not which has the cleanest hands before God.

On all accounts, therefore, let the true Mason never forget the solemn injunction, necessary to be observed at almost every moment of a busy life: "Judge not, lest ye yourselves be judged: for whatever judgment ye measure unto others, the same shall in turn be measured unto you".

How can we help "judging", and why should we not "judge"? The power of seeing into character is to be coveted and cultivated, and the absence of it makes simpletons, not saints. Quite true: but seeing into character is not what Jesus is condeming here. The "Judging", of which He speaks sees motes in a brother's eye. That is to say, it is one-sided, and fixes on faults, which it magnifies, passing by virtues. Carrion flies that buzz with a sickening hum of satisfaction over sores, and prefer corruption to soundness, are as good judges of meat as such critics are of character. That spirit of detraction has wide scope in this day. Literature and politics, as well as social life with its rivalries, are infested by it, and it finds its way into the institutions of our land and threatens us all. The race of fault-finders we have always with us, blind as moles to beauties and goodness, but lynx-eyed for failings. How grave an evil it is, though thought little of, or even admired as cleverness and a mark of a very superior person, Christ shows us by this earnest warning, embedded among His fundamental moral teachings.

Wilmer C. Chesson, Secretary

East Carteret Scottish Rite Club

The first meeting after the summer recess was held on September 3, 1973 at the Masonic Lodge building, with a small group attending.

President John Campobasso presided, and emphasis was put on making plans for the upcoming Ladies Nite, Stag Nite, and especially on getting candidates for the reunion to be held in New Bern in November.

On August 25th at the Masonic Temple in Elizabeth City the Elizabeth City Scottish Rite Club enjoyed a Shrimp Supper with their wives and prospective candidates. There were approximately 120 in attendance and the fellowship was enjoyed by all as well as the shrimp!
